

Mind the Risk – Presentations (Updated 28.11.2017)

Kommunikationsmuster von Ärzten bei der Motivation von Darmkrebs-Patienten zur Teilnahme an Biomarker-Forschung: Eine empirisch-ethische Untersuchung. Jahrestagung der Akademie für Ethik in der Medizin (AEM), Hannover, 2017 (Sabine Wöhlke, Julia Perry)

Physicians' communication patterns for motivating rectal cancer patients to biomarker research participation: empirical insights and ethical issues. 31st European Conference on Philosophy of Medicine and Health Care, Belgrad, 2017 (Julia Perry)

Lay perspectives on direct-to-consumer genetic testing in Germany. 31st Conference on Philosophy of Medicine and Healthcare, Belgrad, 2017 (Manuel Schaper)

“I'd rather have it done by a doctor” - Lay Perspectives on Direct-to-Consumer Genetic Testing in Germany. Mind the Risk Project Workshop, Bowness on Windermere, 2017 (Manuel Schaper)

The risks they are a changin' – How do individual differences in disease perception affect the opportunities and limitations of predictive genetic testing. Preliminary results from focus group research with lay people. Mind the Risk Project Workshop, Bowness on Windermere, 2017 (Julia Perry)

Long-term decision-making in the context of predictive diagnostics, Symposium: The ethics of physician-patient communication and decision-making. Combining empirical findings with normative analysis, Amsterdam, 2016 (Silke Schicktanz, invited talk)

Participatory Ethics. World Congress of Bioethics, Edinburgh, 2016 (Silke Schicktanz)

Ethical Counselling in the age of personalized medicine and diversity issues: Is personalized medicine and socio-cultural sensitive risk communication an oxymoron? Liesel Beckmann Symposium, München, 2016 (Silke Schicktanz, invited talk)

Between uncertainties, risk communication and biomarker research: Conversation strategies or barriers between physicians and colorectal cancer patients. Winter Workshop: Shared decision-making in the context of personalized medicine and patient-centered care – Ethical issues, new methods, and dimensions in the field of oncology, Göttingen, 2016 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Mein Arzt meine Daten und ich. Meine Gesundheit geht ins Netz. Teilnahme Podiumsdiskussion im Rahmen der Veranstaltungsreihe zum Thema: Digitalisierung des Gesundheitswesens, Braunschweig, 2016 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Ethical Aspects of Communication Practices in Web-Based Direct-to-Consumer Genetic Testing Services. Center for Research Ethics and Bioethics, Uppsala University, 2016 (Manuel Schaper)

Ethische Aspekte von Kommunikationspraxen kommerzieller Gentestanbieter im Internet. Contribution to the Annual Conference of the Academy of Ethics in Medicine, Bielefeld, 2016 (Manuel Schaper in collaboration with Sabine Wöhlke)

Between uncertainties, risk communication and biomarker research: Physicians' conversation strategies: Empirical findings from a qualitative study. EACME Annual Conference: „30 Years of European Bioethics“, Leuven, 2016 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Ethical Aspects of Communication Practices in Web-Based Direct-to-Consumer Genetic Testing. EACME Annual Conference: „30 Years of European Bioethics“, Leuven, 2016 (Manuel Schaper)

A focus group approach to risk perception and communication in clinical and direct-to-consumer genetic testing (DTC GT) and whole genome sequencing with lay people and users. Mind the Risk Project Workshop “From theory to practice: Clinical and practical applications of genetic risk research”, Birmingham, 2016 (Manuel Schaper)

Between uncertainties, risk communication and biomarker research: Physicians' conversation strategies: Empirical findings from a qualitative study. Mind the Risk Project Workshop “From theory to practice: Clinical and practical applications of genetic risk research”, Birmingham, 2016 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Barriers of informative communication and patients' needs when it gets risky. Colorectal cancer patients involved in biomarker research – results from a qualitative study. Mind the Risk Project Workshop “From theory to practice: Clinical and practical applications of genetic risk research”, Birmingham, 2016 (Julia Perry)

Ethische Aspekte von Direct-to-Consumer-Genests - Zur normativen Bewertung kommerzieller Genestangebote. 35. Fortbildungsseminar "Health is Wealth? Ökonomische Aspekte im Umgang mit Gesundheit und Krankheit", Institut für Geschichte der Medizin der Robert-Bosch-Stiftung, Stuttgart, 2016 (Manuel Schaper)

Analyzing ethically relevant aspects of “Direct-to-Consumer” genetic testing companies' communication on the internet – A methodological approach - An interdisciplinary approach to medical decision making and risk. 2nd International Workshop of the “Mind the Risk Project”, Baveno, 2015 (Manuel Schaper)

What to do with prediction for therapeutic non-response? A methodological approach for stratification through individualized medicine drawn from current experience in colorectal cancer treatment. The 2nd International Workshop Mind the Risk: An Interdisciplinary Approach to medical decision making and risk, Baveno, 2015 (Sabine Wöhlke)

“Who gets that?” Limits of patients' communication and self-determination in biomarker research. Genetic Risk Information – Addressing New Challenges. 1st International Workshop of the “Mind the Risk Project”, Kassel-Wilhelmshöhe, 2015 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Responsibility in the era of genetic risk: conceptional considerations. Genetic Risk Information – Addressing New Challenges. 1st International Workshop of the “Mind the Risk Project”, Kassel-Wilhelmshöhe, 2015 (Silke Schicktanz)

A philosophical perspective on genetic risk information: The example of preconceptional genetic carrier screening. Genetic Risk Information: Addressing New Challenges, 1st

International Workshop of the “Mind the Risk Project”, Kassel-Wilhelmshöhe, 2015 (Julia Inthorn)

Genetic Risk from a philosophical perspective. Workshop Risk and Ethics, Uppsala University, 2014 (Julia Inthorn)

‘Wer versteht das schon?’ Grenzen der Kommunikation und des Verstehens von Patienten in der Biomarker-Forschung”. Jahrestagung der Akademie für Ethik in der Medizin (AEM), Ulm, 2014 (Julia Perry)

Priorisierung von EGV: Möglichkeiten und Grenzen der Partizipation. Symposium Individualisierte Gesundheitsversorgung in der GKV. Implementierung und Priorisierung, Berlin, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

Risk & Responsibility. Mind the Risk Workshop, Paris, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

The concept of responsibility in research (Keynote). World Congress of Research Integrity, Montreal, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

Patientslikeyou? Current hurdles and misunderstandings in decision-making and research participation of personalized cancer treatment”. International research seminar: EMGO, Institute for Health and Care Research, Amsterdam, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz) Nimm es nicht persönlich? Erwartungen und Erfahrungen von Patienten zur „personalisierteren“ Behandlung in der Onkologie. Stiftung Alfried Krupp Kolleg Greifswald, Alfried Krupp Wissenschaftskolleg Greifswald, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

Bodily Autonomy? Medicine and Responsibility revisited (Keynote). International Conference: Cut’n Paste the Body, LMU München, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

Hoffnungen und Probleme der individuellen Medizin: Patienten und Expertenperspektiven aus ethischer Sicht. 22. Kasseler Symposium für Krankenhausapotheker, Kassel, 2014 (Silke Schicktanz)

Nimm es nicht persönlich? Erwartungen von Wissenschaftlern und Patienten gegenüber prognostischen Tests mit Biomarkern. Gesprächskreis ‘Medizin und Theologie’, Göttingen, 2014 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Nimm es nicht persönlich? Erwartungen von Patientinnen und Patienten gegenüber prognostischen Tests mit Biomarkern. Konferenz: Eine für alle oder alles für einen? Möglichkeiten und Grenzen der personalisierten Medizin, Landesvereinigung für Gesundheit und Akademie für Sozialmedizin Niedersachsen e.V., Hannover, 2014 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Konfliktpotenziale im Umgang mit Therapieansprache und –nichtansprache in der Onkologie. 4. Klausurtagung „Medizinische Forschungsethik im Kontext Individualisierter Medizin“, Alfried Krupp Wissenschaftskolleg, Greifswald, 2013 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Potential ethical trade-offs in the context of personalized medicine. Dealing with “non-responders” in oncological treatment. EACME Annual Conference: “Personalized medicine”

– medicine for the person? Ethical challenges for medical research and practice. Bochum, 2013 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Contrasting patients' and professionals' perspectives on 'individualized medicine': hopes and fears. IAB World Congress of Bioethic, Rotterdam, 2012, gemeinsam mit A. Hessling und S. Schicktanz (Sabine Wöhlke)

Contrasting patients' and professionals' perspectives on 'individualized medicine': hopes and fears. International Expert Meeting: Ethics in Oncology, Heidelberg, 2012, gemeinsam mit A. Hessling und S. Schicktanz (Sabine Wöhlke)

Ethical aspects of individualized rectal cancer therapy: The relevance of socioempirical findings regarding physicians' risk assessment. Workshop: Genetic Risk Information – A multi-disciplinary challenge, Göttingen, 2012 (Sabine Wöhlke)

Philosophisch-ethische Perspektiven genetisch gestützter individualisierter Medizin. Guest lecture: 7. Bioethik Symposium, Akademie Braunschweig, Braunschweig, 2011: Medizin im Wandel. Individualisierte Medizin auf der Basis humangenetischer Diagnostik (Silke Schicktanz)